GLASSKOTE USA Launches 'Extreme Granite™' at GlassBuild America

Bridgeport, Connecticut September, 15th 2006 – GlassKote USA is pleased to announce the launch of 'Extreme Granite' at this years GlassBuild America Show in Las Vegas, September 19-21, 2006. Extreme Granite is a new decorative finish for glass that builds on the appearance of natural granite by adding unusual colors and textures that just don't occur in stone. GlassKote USA will offer this new material for commercial and residential applications where the look of granite, color flexibility and the functionality of glass come together to provide a unique surface.

“While granite itself is a tried & tested material, the fact is, we're all 'ho-hum' about it; it's been around for so long and there really isn't much choice – my stone looks like your stone. It's become a bit boring. The interesting thing about Extreme Granite is the ability to combine unique colors and textures to personalize your environment and stand out from the crowd” says Alexsandra Guinan, Principal in GlassKote USA.

GlassKote USA will be showing a few different Extreme Granite finishes called Moon Gold, Black Meteor, Galaxy Blue and Violet Moon Dust at Booth #846.
